

Please do NOTHING to dilute the Indiana statute regarding the Telephone Privacy Law. I would NOT want to go back to the time when I was getting several calls per week at dinner-time or in the evening or on the week end from phone solicitors. Just as bad is coming home to find a long winded spiel on the answering machine. Please leave our state statute alone.

If you want to pass a federal law, fine. Make your law effective only in states with no existing laws or very weak ones. Just leave alone any existing state laws, especially ours which is working just fine.

Thank you.
Tom White